That takes care of our normal business. Now, before we break, I want to raise a concern I have with personnel. I've noticed over the past couple of months a lot of new faces in our offices, faces that seem to be here one week and gone the next. On top of that, I understand that there were a few mix-ups involving some very important clients. What I need to know is what the problem seems to be in finding capable personnel who have a measure of stability and a sense of loyalty to a company?

Today, light rain all day, clearing in the evening with a few clouds. Daytime high 23 going down a few notches to 19 overnight. Tomorrow we'll wake up to clear and sunny skies, a high reaching 27, dipping down to 18 as the evening progresses. Looking ahead to the weekend: clear and sunny both days, the temperature getting up to a whopping 28C on Sunday, so break out the BBQ! I know it's a little early, but hey, with highs in the mid-to-upper twenties, it's like summer's already here!

I've known Sterling for a long time. We used to camp and swim together even before we were teenagers, and then he moved to Montreal, which made it hard to hang out. I don't mind telling him today that I missed his friendship a lot after that. But when summer rolled around, he was sure to be back up from the city, and it was always interesting for both of us to see how we'd changed from one summer to the next. Our interests went from music, concerts and hockey cards to of course, girls. And then along came this beautiful woman you see sitting beside Sterling today. Who knew that the teenage crush they had on each other would turn into a lifelong love? Sterling, buddy, I love you man, and I wish all the happiness in the world to the both of you on this special day.

I'm here in front of the White House where just moments ago, two distinct shots were heard coming from within the White House itself, and believed to have been heard in the Oval Office. Troops have already been deployed and we can see them moving in the background. About a minute ago, a helicopter was seen leaving the grounds of the White House. Whether the President and the First Lady were in that helicopter cannot be confirmed at the moment. Also, it cannot be confirmed if the helicopter is en route to a medical centre with wounded. Once more, if you're just tuning in, moments ago shots were heard coming from within the White House, and they are believed to have been heard in the Oval Office. U.S. troops have been deployed to the grounds, and a helicopter has left the grounds with unknown passengers inside. Stay tuned, and we'll update you as more news of this breaking story comes in.
